What is it made from?

The principal raw material is cellulose derived from wood (predominantly eucalyptus) pulp from responsibly-managed forests.

Is it compostable?

Yes, NatureFlex™ is certified for home and industrial composting.

How is it made?

Wood pulp is turned into viscose which is then turned into cellulose film. The film is then dried to make sure it contains optimal moisture levels. At this point, the NatureFlex™ is coated to ensure additional heat sealing and moisture barrier capabilities.

Which Vegware products use NatureFlex™?

Many of our sandwich wedges and bags to go use NatureFlex™ film.
